PROJECTS

- I developed a modern and responsive portfolio website using advanced tools like ChatGPT and GitHub Copilot to enhance both design and functionality. The website showcases my skills, projects, and experience with a clean, user-friendly interface and smooth performance across devices. It reflects my expertise in front-end development, including the use of modern technologies and best practices. All the projects featured in the portfolio are fully functional and live, deployed using Vercel, and the portfolio website itself is also successfully hosted and live on Vercel.
